[By Associated Press.]
El Paso, Texas, May 8.—It became known today that almost the entire army of General Madero was marching on Juarez without their leader's knowledge or consent last night, when the arrival of President Diaz's announcement that he would resign when his country is again on a peaceful basis ended the movement.
General Madero had ordered his men to move on Mexico City, and in good faith they were obeying, but his lesser chiefs already had Juarez in a dangerous net when the opportune news from Mexico City came. The thick night and rain made the insurgent strategem noiseless and undetected, even by the federals.

PROPOSE SALE OF JERSEYS AT FARMERS' CONGRESS.

It has been suggested that the growing interest in dairy cattle would warrant a public auction of registered Jersey cattle at the annual meeting of the Texas Farmers' Congress in July at A. & M. college. C. H. Alvord, professor of agriculture at the college, is writing to the breeders of Jersey cattle to get an expression of opinion relative to the desirability of holding such a sale.
The expense of shipping the animals to the college would necessarily have to be borne by the individual contributors. The expense of maintenance, reshipping, auctioneer's fees, would be deducted from the total receipts and pro rated among the contributors in proportion to the amount paid for the animals. The terms of the sale would be cash or bankable paper at 8 per cent interest. If Mr. Alvord receives letters from farmers and breeders indicating sufficient interest he will arrange such a sale.—A. & M. College Bulletin.
